Neville Arjani is a Principal and Chief Actuary with Findley Davies who joined the firm in 2000. Prior to joining Findley Davies, he held leadership positions at two large insurance companies as well as a global human resources consulting firm.

He has extensive experience consulting with many of the firm's major clients on a wide range of pension and retiree health care benefit matters including strategic planning, plan design, risk management, accounting, funding, forecasting, and compliance. He believes that the human resource function can play a strategic role in furthering organizational objectives through the effective design and delivery of qualified and non-qualified pension and other benefit programs.

Neville became a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries in 1976, a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries in 1977, an Enrolled Actuary in 1978, and a Fellow of the Conference of Consulting Actuaries in 2004.
