Tim Weizer is a Senior Consultant in the Findley Davies' Compensation and Rewards Practice. Tim's business background includes extensive experience with two, top tier, international human resource consulting firms where he held senior consulting positions.

In the design and execution of dozens of sales compensation and sales effectiveness programs for his clients, Tim has consulted across a wide variety of industries, public and privately-owned organizations, in both the United States and Canada. Tim also advises corporate executives on the areas of strategic planning and organizational development.

Tim has corporate experience having been a Vice President of Human Resources and Organizational Development for a privately-held HR software development and outsourcing company. In this role, he was responsible for the overall management of the company's HR, Customer Service, and Technical Field Representative functions. Among his accomplishments, Tim developed and directed the company's initiatives to improve its business capability, responsiveness, and loyalty among its clients.
